BUYING FEED.

Experience With the "Feed Only What You Raise" Theory.

The advice so often and persistently given to farmers by the agricultural press that they should raise all the feed they use has done and is still doing a vast amount of harm. A large number of farmers regard the buying of feed as a sign of improvidence, if not actually criminal, says a writer in Ohio Farmer.

Visit almost any farm and one find-stock of some kind that, to use the general term, is being "roughed" for lack of time, shelter or feed or the lack of proper feed, and the excuse given is, as a rule, "We feed them only corn." We know they should have some bean cows or alfalfa, but we cannot afford to buy it, and we have plenty of corn.
We grow this ourselves."

The most important lesson the writer ever learned was from his experience in feeding dairy cows. We had for years fed and practiced the "feed only what you raise" theory, and at the end of the year found but meager, if any, profit, and were forced to change our methods or work for the fun we could get out of raising feed.

Instead of continuing to play at a losing game we discarded this method and raise such crops as are best adapted to our soil, no matter what they are, and then buy the elements lacking in our home grown feeds.

I buy a load of bran, oilmeal or cottonseed meal, knowing that when fed to balance a ration with our home grown grains, etc., it enhances the feed value of our grain from 50 to 100 per cent.

If you wish to please people you must begin by understanding them.—Reade.

Garden Vegetables.

Spray the following with paris green when the insects appear: Cabbages for cabbage worm.
Cucumbers, squash, pumpkins and melons for the striped cucumber beetle.
Tomatoes for the tomato worm.

Spray potatoes with paris green bordeaux for the Colorado beetle and the bea beetles, when they appear. This spray will also prevent the potato blight.

Potato scab is treated by soaking the seed potatoes in formalin (a pint in thirty gallons of water) for about two hours. Treated potatoes should not be placed where they will get reinfected with scab spores.

Spray any of the vegetables with some of kerosene emulsion for plant lice and any other of the plant bugs that suck the juices from the plants.
Care must be taken to reach every insect on the under side of the leaves.— Oklahoma Experiment Station.

Argentine Competition.

The English market gives us an enormous outlet for the better grades of live stock, our annual sales of feed lot products to London, Liverpool and other British cities aggregating nearly $150,000,000. But for this our western feeders would indeed be in hard lines, because the surplus of this industry is so stupendous that the home market alone is powerless to absorb it at a price that would admit of the feeding of high priced corn upon high priced land at any profit. Even here, however, we will have to look closely to our interests, as Argentina is becoming a more dangerous competitor in Great Britain each recurring season.—Ohio Farmer.

Top Dressing Mowing Land.

I have tried top dressing mowing land in April, May, October, November and December and have received most benefit from manuring as soon as the grass is mowed. The manure then protects the roots from being burned by the sun, says a Massachusetts farmer.

Complexion Improvers.

The art of beautifying the complexion is ancient as its chief motive—the desire to obtain the admiration of the opposite sex. The women of gray antiquity knew how to give their cheeks the rosy hue defied by nature.

The Calabash Tree.

Quite a wonderful tree is the calabash of the West Indies, which bears enormous fruits that resemble pumpkins and grow to be nearly two feet in diameter. With the pulp removed they serve various domestic purposes —for carrying water and even as ke-tles for cooking—having the great advantages of strength and lightness.

Cleaning Milk Vessels.

For scrubbing the surfaces of milk vessels a good brush should be used.
There is nothing more objectionable for this purpose than a cloth, particularly the cloth that has been used for washing the dinner dishes or the pots and pans. A good hand brush can be purchased for a few cents.

Why Not Use Printer's Ink?

If one makes such butter as he positively knows is good—he must not necessarily think it is good because it is his, but know it is good and why it is good, and be able to make it just that way fifty-two times or often a year—and wants more customers who are willing to pay a little more for quality, a little money judiciously spent in advertising is generally a profitable investment.—Exchange.

Perhaps there is hardly a more general favorite in the line of dairy products than cottage cheese, and that this favor has a solid basis appears from the following conclusions of the Minnesota experiment station:

Pound for pound, cottage cheese prepared with cream compares favorably in composition and digestibility with beef and other meats. One hundred pounds of skim milk and four pounds of cream, containing 27 per cent fat, will make from fifteen to sixteen pounds or more of cottage cheese.
At 2 cents per quart for skim milk and 35 cents per quart for cream, cottage cheese would cost about 11 cents per pound and compares very favorably in nutritive value with meats at the same price per pound.

Where skim milk can be procured at a low cost, cottage cheese is one of the most economical food that can be used. The addition of cream to cottage cheese favorably influences both its nutritive value and its palatability without increasing the cost above that of average meats.

Upon the farm where milk is produced cottage cheese is one of the cheapest foods that can be used. Under such a condition it is more economical to use cottage cheese made with cream than it is to make the cream into butter and purchase meat. Cottage cheese supplies a large amount of protein and fat in a very digestible and palatable form.

A Farm Cheese Room.

The accompanying illustrations show a homemade curing room. A ventilator should be arranged at the top to allow warm air to pass out. A good the soil is still enough to prevent caving in. The famous Roquefort cheese ture are nearly always the same.—

Dried Beet Pulp.

Dried beet pulp is comparatively a new article on the market and is the dried residue in beet sugar manufacture. It comes from the sugar following an operation briefly as follows: The beets are washed, then shredded into small, round strips, through which large upright cylinders, through which but water is forced, dissolving out the sugar. This liquor is drawn off, and the pulp, containing about 92 per cent of moisture and 1 per cent of sugar, is conveyed to large presses, which reduce the moisture to 82 per cent. It is then put into large kils and thoroughly dried by direct heat. The drying process lasts about thirty-five minutes, and the resulting product is minced ready for shipment. After extracting the sugar from the liquor which has been drawn off the liquor has a residuum molasses, and a certain amount of this product is mixed with the fresh pulp, then dried and sold under the name of "dried molasses beet pulp."

Working the Butter.

For working the butter some form of table worker is best to use. The butter bowl and paddle never give as good results, because the butter will almost invariably be greasy owing to the sliding motion of the paddle over the butter, says a dairy authority. The table workers commonly used are of two kinds, one having a stationary bed and a roller, either corrugated or smooth, arranged so that it can be passed back and forth over the surface of the butter, the other having a movable bed, revolving on a center, usually under two corrugated rollers, both of these forms will do good work if the operator understands their use.

Why Not Use Printer's Ink?

If one makes such butter as he
willing to pay a little more for quality,

vestment.—Exchange.

PURE BLOOD IS VITAL

Not everyone realizes the vital necessity of keeping the blood pure at all times. Impure blood not only causes various derangements and inability to perform one's work well, but gives a ready welcome to all germs of disease with which it comes in contact. It is the rankest extravagance to allow the human blood to remain in an impure or impoverished condition.
"Our Standard Remedy" is the safest, purest and best blood purifier on the market to-day. It is a new remedy, a purely vegetable preparation composed of roots, barks and herbs, and contains no calomel or other injurious or met-

FACTS CONCERNING
THE HIGH SCHOOL

In view of the destruction of the high school building by earthquake and the consequent submitting of the question of voting bonds for a new building, your attention is called to the following facts:—

1. As there is no building in town suitable for the satisfactory carrying on of the school, the erection of a building is absolutely necessary. Even if a suitable building could be secured, the cost of rent and the establishing of the school would be more than $5000, and that sum would have to be raised by tax.

2. The maintenance of the high school is necessary to all the interests of Sonoma Valley, intellectual, moral and material. A prominent real estate dealer is authority for the statement that two-thirds of the letters received from prospective settlers contain inquiries regarding a high school.

3. The high school has now an accredited standing and if the community desires that commercial work be included in its courses of study such an arrangement can, and doubtless will, be made.

4. There are only two ways in which the funds can be raised to supply the necessary building, by a direct tax and by the voting of bonds. The first way requires that the whole amount be paid at once, and so imposes a heavy burden upon the tax-payers. The method by voting bonds involves only a slight increase in the tax rate, and hence is the one usually adopted for building school houses.

5. The tax rate for the support of the high school for the past year was fifteen cents on one hundred dollars, eight cents lower than that for any other high school in the county, and among the lowest of the state. The average rate in the state is over twenty cents.

6. The average annual tax rate necessary to pay the principal and interest on the bonds will be only a little over two and one-half cents on one hundred dollars. The man, then, who pays taxes on one thousand dollars worth of property will pay twenty-five cents, that is his present tax will be increased by that amount.

7. The facts may be summarized thus:—The high school is necessary to the interests of the valley; the cost of maintaining the school is far below the average; a building is necessary for the satisfactory work of the school; the easiest way of providing a house is by the voting of bonds; the cost of the bonds involves only a slight increase in the tax rate.

ROBERT P. HILL,
Sec'y Board of Trustees.

Prof. Hancock's Show

Prof. W. H. Hancock, assisted by his talented wife, will give a two nights show in Union Hall, on Friday and Saturday evening, July 13 and 15.

Prof. Hancock is a magician of world-wide fame and has mastered the art in every detail. He is not only the greatest in his profession but for many years has been an instructor in sleight of hand, magic, hypnotism and mind reading.

At the time of the earthquake, the Professor was filing an engagement in the metropolis but lost everything he had in that awful calamity. He has just secured fine modern stage settings and all the necessary paraphernalia for a high class entertainment.

Prof. Hancock has given successful performances in nearly all the large cities of Europe, America and India and many flattering testimonials of his skill would fill a volume.

Don't forget the dates July 13 and 14, in Union Hall.

GLEN ELLEN CELEBRATION

An ideal day and an ideal celebration was that prevailed in Glen Ellen last Wednesday. A great crowd gathered from all directions to celebrate with the enterprising and hospitable people of the Glen.

The celebration was given under the auspices of the Woman's Improvement Club and the grand success of the event in every detail won the praises of all who attended. Nothing was lacking to make the celebration the best that the little town ever held.

The executive committee of the club, having immediate charge of affairs was composed of Mrs. Guldager, Mrs. Payne and Miss Zane.

Mrs. Guldager, the chairman, trained a number of fair young Americans in a beautiful flag drill that was heartily applauded and as generalissimo of the celebration deserves great credit for her able management. She was ably assisted by the members of the club and the successful outcome of the big event shows how indfatigably they worked.

The program rendered in Native Sons' Park, a beautiful natural picnic ground, was as follows:

Flag Drill by 15 young ladies led by Miss Farnocchi; Chorus, Star Spangled Banner, and America, by the drill team; Oration, Judge A. G. Burnett; Music by the Home Band of Eldridge.

Miss O'Brien of San Francisco, sweetly sang the Star Spangled Banner, in a highly pleasing manner.

Miss Amy Poppe's reading of the Declaration of Independence was strictly proper and she was heartily cheered for her able work.

Mrs. A. E. Gaige did good work for the Club by dispensing ice cream.

Mrs. Corbaley and Mrs. O'Donnell had charge of the lemonade stand on the grounds and did a landoffice business.

Mrs. Gordenker gave the children who assisted in the Glen Ellen celebration, free ice cream on that day. It was heartily appreciated.

NEW SURVEY

Secretary Metcalf has instructed the Coast Geodetic Survey to make a survey of the coast line and ascertain whether during the recent seismic disturbance there was any change in the coast line.

Many have claimed that the tremor caused changes in the location of an alarming nature. Maps and charts will be made, and the information gained will be of immense interest to the Pacific coast and to science generally.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS

The new management of Boyes Hot Springs have let the contract for 40 new modern bath rooms and all modern accessories. Work is being rushed and will aid materially in handling the big crowds that visit the springs daily to use the healing water. Other improvements, including a fine modern hotel, are in contemplation. It is expected that work on the hotel will begin this Fall.

Runaway Accident

Gco. Cassidy, who resides on a farm below town was seriously hurt in a runaway that occurred on Spain street, throwing Mr. Cassidy out at the first corner. He fell heavily on his hip which it is feared is badly injured. Dr. Thomson is attending the injured man who is now doing as well as could be expected.
